

River Runs Dry (Bennett/Young)

Did you want to walk-down the lane alone

I never wanted this broken telephone-memory is fading all over

But life-keeps a- rollin' on

Oh life-just where we belong

Almost-climbed to the top of the hill

Dreaming of the sun

And the river runs dry-we'll never know why

Stone cold walking out-clock's run out past midnight

Done walking round in circles my friend-time stopped while your world was fading

The night-got away from you my again

But night-has a way with you my friend

And now-we're at the top of the hill-waiting for the sun

And the river runs dry-we'll never know why

People live 'til they die-and the river runs dry

Dark side of the moon-our love ones leave too soon-

There's rising panic in our lives

Willow seems to weep-from the dark side of the street-

We can't return to our youth
